

Have your say on Northland's transport priorities

Regional Land Transport Plan

2021-2027 (2023 review)

This plan will become our region's bid for central government land transport funding assistance. As funding is limited, it's vital that the proposed spend will deliver the best benefit for Northland.

We're now seeking feedback on a draft plan, before it's finalised and submitted to government. The plan is effectively the blueprint for transport spending in Northland over the next three to six years.

Proposed major projects

The government is developing a new Government Policy on Transport. When released, this may result in current projects for both the Councils and NZTA being subject to change.

Make a submission

Northland's Regional Transport Committee is reviewing the Regional Land Transport Plan 2021-2027 and it's time to have your say.

Submissions close 4pm 15 March 2024.

Transport priorities

Route resilience and route safety

Regional and national connectivity

Reducing transport-related deaths and serious injuries

Economic and tourism development

Future-proofing and long-term planning

Provide better transport options, including in rural communities

Reducing the environmental effects of transport

For a full list of proposed projects and costs, see the full draft plan at www.nrc.govt.nz/transportplan

NORTHLAND TRANSPORTATION ALLIANCE